

PPI LEARNING & TRAINING RESOURCES:

Please use the following links to access available learning, development and training resources:

- INVOLVE 'Learning for Involvement': A website "dedicated to learning and development for public involvement in health and social care research". The site brings public involvement information and resources (e.g guidance, websites, videos, articles, blogs etc) and training together, in just one place. Training opportunities may be listed, and visitors to the site may peruse opportunities listed by a wide variety of other providers: <https://bit.ly/2Bx71lw>
- The NIHR 'Learning Zone': <http://bit.ly/2qSZkCP>
- A range of University of Southampton CPD (Continuing Professional Development) learning resources are available online; you may need to use your University credentials to log-in to access these (don't have a username and password? Email us to request one - we'll help if we can): <http://bit.ly/2x4oJlo>
- The University of Southampton portal also points to Lynda.com - an online learning website, to which University staff are subscribed. Again, you will need your staff username & password (see above): <https://www.lynda.com/>
